PATIENTS FIRST EDUCATIONAL EVENT IS SCHEDULED

Washington, Mo, January 7, 2010.....Dr. Ann Elizabeth Mohart, Patients First Urgent Care physician, will discuss “The Dangers of H1N1 Influenza”, on Thursday morning, January 28, at the Patients First Washington campus building off of Duncan Avenue. Dr. Mohart will outline symptoms of this flu strain, and will provide suggestions on how to recognize when it’s time to see a physician. The free public event will begin at 8:30 a.m. in the second floor Conference Center at Patients First. While the event is free, reservations are required by calling Alvera Heeger at 636-390-1408. Refreshments will be served.

This program is the first educational event planned for the New Year by the Patients First Health Care Educational Foundation.

The next event, scheduled for Thursday evening, February 11, will help women focus on their heart health. “A Woman’s Heart Celebration!” will be a great girls’ night out for mothers, daughters, grandmothers, sisters and friends. Refreshments will be served and reservations are required.

The Patients First Health Care Educational Foundation is the not-for-profit organization of Patients First Health Care. The Foundation offers public education programs and supports two different scholarship programs.
